The Barre Athletics and the East Barre team remained only four innings yesterday afternoon at Rogers' field, and when the rain stopped the game, the score stood 9 to 1 in favor of the locals. The batteries were Smith and Wisner for Barre and J. Roark, Boston and Taplin for the visitors. The local aviators got to Roark for seven bingles, and at the close of the third he withdrew in favor of Boston, who was destined to go only one session, as it rained soon after. Lee, the Goddard star, was there with the big stick for the Athletics, walling out three two-buggers, besides robbing Dugbes of a hit in the fourth, when he pulled in a Texas leaguer that was making for the outer gardens. Taplin and Pickering did good work for East Barre behind the bat and at first, respectively.

SAVED BY HAIR-BREADTH.

Barre Nearly Flooded Littleton, N. H., All for Naught.

By the narrowest kind of a margin, a party of Barre people just avoided inflicting themselves on Littleton, N. H., yesterday. They are the "Dokkes," the organization which is connected with the Knights of Pythias. Arrangements were made some time ago for a meeting of Sunday temple of the "Dokkes" at Littleton, and the Barre end of the temple got the impression that the meeting was to be held June 15. Therefore, preparations were made; automobiles were chartered to carry the party, the paraphernalia was boxed and taken to the station for delivery by train and furnishings had been obtained by all who were not their own masters.

But they didn't go; and the way it was this "A Barre 'Dokkes'" in business here was approached by a drummer, who wanted to sell goods, but was put off by the business man, who said he hadn't time, as he was going to Littleton for a "Dokkes" meeting.

That made the drummer prick up his ears, for he was a "Dokke" himself and, moreover, had just come from Littleton. He surprised the merchant of the fact that Littleton wasn't expecting anything like that so sudden-like, and the merchant at once "got busy" and found that the Littleton meeting was to come off next week. There still being a little time to head off the other "Dokkes" and splendid invention, the telephone, was brought into use and was kept hot for some time, until each and every one of the knights-errant had learned of the fact. Consequently, the turloughs will be made over to its next week.

CONCERT VERY GOOD

Arranged Under Auspices of the Barre Choral Union.

A very well arranged program of twelve numbers was given at the Barre opera house last evening by the Barre Choral Union, assisted by Miss Allie Trow as reader, Clarence H. Wilson as bass soloist, and Gilbertson's orchestra.

Miss Besse Spear was accompanist. The concert was listened to with closest attention throughout.

The Choral union has been trained by L. G. Griffith and he directed the work last night, being able to bring out the fifty voices in a splendid manner. The chorus gave four numbers, Gounod's "In-fold Ye Petals," Placini's "Good Night Beloved," Watson's "The Gallant Troubadour" and Hayden's "The Heavens are Telling." Perhaps the most enjoyable of the four was "The Gallant Troubadour."

Miss Allie Trow, who has just returned to her home in this city after a year of elocutions in the South, was again heard with great pleasure, and her interpretation of Howard's "Erin Go Bragh" and Donnell's pathetic "Bobby Unwelcome" she was obliged to return to the stage and read a second time.

But without detracting from the work of the others it would perhaps be correct to state that Mr. Wilson's solos were the best of the program. Mr. Wilson pleased the audience immediately with Handel's "Honor and Arms," being obliged to respond again and also again when he appeared for the second time on the regular program. His rendering of "Look Lomond" was particularly effective.

The Barre Male chorus had but a single number on the program but stood by that something of the possibilities of the members. The chorus gave Mendelssohn's "The Hunter's Farewell" and Hastings' "Bring Her Again."

A very pleasing part of the entertainment was the work of Gilbertson's orchestra, playing Rossini's "Italian in Algeria," the Intermezzo by Bizet and a Hungarian dance number by Brahms.

The intermission was unobtrusively best of the orchestra's work, and it was given a hearty reception by the audience. Miss Besse Spear, the accompanist, did effective work as usual.

The concert was given for the benefit of the Choral union and for the public playground being arranged by the Barre Civic federation. On account of the heavy down just before the concert the attendance was not large. To aid in the establishment of the public playground, Paul Stumpin, son of the owner of the land where the playground is located, is to give a benefit baseball game at the grounds on July 2, and further announcement will be made later.

The Tricky Fox.

A gentleman while hunting near a river one winter day saw a fox run out on the ice and make at full speed for an opening in the ice where the running water of the river could be plainly seen from the bank, says the sportsman. At the edge he stopped, turned, followed his tracks back to the bank and then ran some distance down the stream and sat there. Soon a dog came crashing on the ice, baying finely, not on the fox's trail. Now, dogs when on a chase of this kind trust almost entirely to their noses. This one was no exception. He ran along the ice, head down, and when he reached the hole he could not stop, but plunged into the water and disappeared forever. Then the fox trotted away with every sign of satisfaction.

The Praetorian Guard.

The Praetorian guard was a select body of troops instituted by the Emperor Augustus to protect his person and consisted of ten cohorts, each of 1,000 men, chosen from Italy. They had peculiar privileges and when they had served sixteen years were retired on a pension of about $500. Each member of the guard had the rank of a captain in the regular army. Like the bodyguard of Louis XIV., they were all gentlemen and formed gradually a great power, like the janizaries at Constantinople, and frequently deposed or elevated the very emperors themselves.

The Dead in India.

Three distinct methods of disposing of the dead are in vogue in India. While the Mohammedans prefer to throw the bodies into the purifying waters of the Ganges, and even now there are constant infractions of the severe regulations framed to suppress this dangerous practice. The form of funeral adopted by the Parsees is that of simply exposing their dead at a great altitude to the scavenging services of crows and vultures.

VACATION TIME WILL SOON BE HERE

There has been a great demand for Sweaters. Vacation will increase this demand. We have just received all of our Fall and Winter Worsteds Goods. This means Gloves, Mittens, Leggings, Toques and Sweaters. If these had been delivered later it would mean a large per cent more cost to us and the same proportion to you. In this way you are not only getting the pick of a full Fall assortment but saving on the price. See our windows for these new styles.

Sweaters

We are opening to-day a new line. Styles are in advance of fall kinds. They are the Hoag Knit and must be right. There is but one profit in these Sweaters, and that is ours. No middleman; they come direct from the factory to us.

Young Ladies' Sweaters in sizes from 28 to 34, in all of the best colors, made coat style, of best yarn; only $1.50 each. A good 50c saved here.

Ladies' Coat Sweaters with the new neck, in a fancy stitch, at $2.50 each. A jobber's Sweater, same grade, would sell for from $3.00 to $3.50. It pays to get them right.

We have extra qualities in hand-made Sweaters at $4.00, $5.75 and $6.75, just a few of each. These are the college styles.

Musling

Musling Underwear

This Underwear is made in the West. A Boston party selling Underwear from one of the largest concerns in New England made the remark to us last week that wherever Musling Underwear was sold they did not expect much business. This is a good deal for a competitor to say of another's goods. It is true, nevertheless. Twenty millions of people are wearing it. It must be right to interest so many.

One suit of Musling Underwear is sure to make a customer. It recommends itself to others, and so it goes.

There was but one other party in Vermont using Musling Underwear when we took the agency years ago; now pretty nearly all dealers that can get the agency have it. It's the best part of our Underwear business. They are the only kinds that an advance cotton and wool market have not made any higher. They have improved at the same price.

New lot of Auto Coats by express today; also new Wash Suits in white.
